Efficacy and toxicity of intravenous busulfan in dogs with acute lymphoblastic leukemia: 67 cases (1988-1993). Forty-seven of 57 dogs with naturally occurring leukemia received treatment with intravenous busulfan (4 mg/kg, 6-hour infusion) and were followed prospectively for determination of response to treatment and for detection of potential toxic effects. Twenty-five dogs achieved complete remission, for a response rate of 45%. The median duration of remission was 106 days (range, 62-209 days). A few dogs had repeat relapses, and the median survival time was 145 days (range, 7-360 days). Toxic effects included thrombocytopenia, increased alkaline phosphatase activity, and development of hypoalbuminemia. Four of 27 dogs with thrombocytopenia had hemorrhagic diathesis. Three of these dogs required transfusion of blood products; two dogs were euthanized because of persistent, severe thrombocytopenia, and the third dog recovered from this complication. The most frequent adverse effects were transient neurologic signs, which were observed in 25 dogs. The dogs with neurologic signs all recovered without the need for euthanasia. A few dogs developed mild increases in alkaline phosphatase activity, which were generally transient. All 3 dogs that developed hypoalbuminemia recovered without the need for euthanasia. With the exception of an initial febrile reaction and transient, subclinical increases in alkaline phosphatase activity, IV busulfan was well tolerated in these dogs.

Q: Ideal Generating Set of IDA How do I go about finding an ideal generating set of the ideal  $I=(x^2+2y^2)$  of the ring  $R=\mathbb{Z}[x,y]/(x^2+2y^2)$ . A: Write  $x = \alpha x_1 + \beta x_2$ ,  $y = \gamma x_1 + \delta x_2$ , where  $x_1, x_2$  are as in the quotient ring. Then
