OSC notes that there is not one process for evaluating online applications, but rather a collection of criteria based on both faculty- and student-derived guidelines. OSC suggests that applicants should consult faculty members and their advising staff for guidance in meeting the requirements of each state program.A small earthquake shook northern Oklahoma at 4:08 p.m. Monday. The magnitude 1.4 earthquake happened in the Beggs area about 30 miles northwest of Oklahoma City, the United States Geological Survey reported. The location of the earthquake suggests it was caused by the withdrawal of oil from the Deepwater Horizon well near the seafloor. The exact magnitude and depth of the earthquake will be
